

June 23, 1942.

Mr. Ernest Wright,
1331 Holland St.,
Erie, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing you a copy of a letter received today from the Editor of the New York Amsterdam Star News. The date on the letter June 19th makes me feel he has not received any release to date about our action taken at the joint Meeting in Chicago. While I know you could not release definite information as to the place the game will be played until the Park is secured, we could at least release the information that the game is to be played.

I still think Washington would be a better spot, but I realize that could not be attempted, Cleveland might refuse us the use of the Park.

I am sure if a release was sent to the Associated Press, the White Dailies would carry this release. I understand there was a story in the Defender and the Courier, this was due to the fact that both those papers had a Representative at the Meeting. This, however, is very unfair for one paper to carry this news and expect others to carry it at a later date when it is stale. You, as Chairman, should see to it that all releases are given to all the papers at the same time. This is just another one of the little selfish demonstrations that our baseball is famous for.

I hope I am not assuming too much in making these suggestions to you, if I am, please pardon me. Will be glad to hear from you when convenient.

Very truly yours,

EW:CCJ